4. Announcements from Governmental Representatives

Anna Kozma of Councilman Mike Bonin’s Office spoke re: a 200 tree giveaway at the next Westchester Farmer’s Market. Other items reported on included Councilman Bonin’s 10 point “Back to Basics” plan. Additionally she noted that today the Councilman sent a letter in response to the NCWP’s letter of August 15, 2017 regarding the Road Safety Projects currently taking place in Playa del Rey.

Vanessa Serrano of DONE reminded the Board and members of the public that the Congress of Neighborhood Councils will take place at City Hall on Saturday, September 9, 2017. Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. and the Congress will wrap up by 4:30 p.m. Pre-Registration is advised. As noted in the EmpowerLA monthly newsletter, Neighborhood Council election years are being changed to odd-numbered years as a result of City Council action. For example, elections that were to be held in 2018 and 2020 will now be held in 2019 and 2021, respectively. Ms. Serrano closed by saying that DONE is working very hard to highlight the diversity of all 97 certified Neighborhood Councils that now exist in Los Angeles.

Jeff Thompson, LAX Liaison announced that there will be a public workshop regarding the LAMP project held on September 19, 2017 at the Flight path Museum. This workshop will be concerned with the Review of Environmental Assessment for this project.

5. Public Comment –non-agenda items

John Ruhlen reported that six (6) homes in Westchester had been torn down for new development. The result of these projects was that the sidewalks were left a mess, in horrible condition. Mr. Ruhlen suggested that conditions be imposed on developers to fix or replace the sidewalks damaged by their projects as a condition of obtaining a permit.

6. Presentations-LAWA CEO Deborah Flint discussed operations and modernization at LAX. With a two (2) year anniversary on the job, Ms. Flint has twenty (20) years of experience in the air travel industry. She also mentioned that she fully understands that airports have an impact on neighboring communities. It is her goal for LAX to be a “first class neighbor”. The mission at LAX, she continued, is to serve both the world and the community. Ms. Flint went on to note that the Tom Bradley Terminal is one of the most acclaimed in the world. She also stated how many travelers feel about LAX, based on the comments placed in social media. LAX is in transformation, she noted and the feedback received is genuinely appreciated. As the head of a public service agency, she also greatly appreciates the work of Neighborhood Council members.

Another issue addressed was that of the homeless population in Manchester Square. Ms. Flint reported the following related to this matter:

- LAX is working to connect services to the homeless population in Manchester Square;
- PATH met with fifty (50) people over a two (2) week span, and two (2) of the homeless have now been placed in permanent housing;
- Over thirty-five (35) tons of trash and other debris has been removed from the area;
- Efforts in Manchester Square are ongoing.

Regarding traffic going into LAX, Ms. Flint expects the train to connect to the People Mover and CONRAC by 2023.

Regarding the LAMP project, she is looking for “a cutting edge Innovative Public-Private partnership” where developers will have “skin in the game”. She is looking for the development team to “own the outcome” of their projects. Additionally, during the project’s life span, LAX will hold contractors accountable for maintaining traffic flow.

Turning to the matter of jet noise, Ms. Flint said that she understands this issue, and LAX is currently performing an analysis of it. She said that LAX wants to take the “Good Neighbor Approach” and have aircraft come into the airport over the ocean between the hours of 12:00 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. instead of a westerly arrival. She also acknowledged that weather can dictate changes to this approach, however. Additionally, LAX is working with the FAA on the matter.

In closing, Ms. Flint is looking to make LAX a “Gold Standard” airport, noting that expectations from the traveling public regarding airports have changed.

There were several questions and comments from Board Members for Ms. Flint.

Topal-Asked a question regarding noise from revving engines prior to take off.

Mannix-Issued praise for the teams at LAX and noted that they work well with the NCWP Airport Relations Committee. He also asked if there was a fine imposed for excessive noise and offered Long Beach airport as an example.

Cooley Strickland-questions about the start of the Northside Development.

Quon-Various questions including Terminals 9 and 0, whether the airport is still using data from the 1993 noise study and what about the “X” at LAX. Also asked about an update on the LAX theme building.

Aniolek-Urged LAX to take its time in regard to the LAMP development and asked about the airport’s role in the current “Road Diet” in Playa del Rey.
